Connect With CAPK

Community Action Month is in full roar at CAPK and we're urging the community to come celebrate with us. Our inaugural Community Action Month Resource Fair will take over Heritage Park in Bakersfield this Saturday. And cities around Kern County have recognized the impact of our agency in their neighborhoods over the past two weeks.

Our Community Action Month Message

CAPK operates 17 programs that can help you confront poverty. Please call 211 or visit capk.org to make sure all of our programs are working for you!

Resolutions of Support

We want to thank the city councils of Wasco, Ridgecrest, McFarland and Delano - as well as the Kern County Board of Supervisors - for recognizing the impact of Community Action during their recent meetings. Partnerships with the local governments that work beside us every day to improve the lives of the residents we all serve mean so much to Kern County Supervisor Mike Maggard, who is also a CAPK Governing Board member, presents a resolution to CAPK CEO Jeremy Tobias in honor of May as Community Action Month in Kern County.

Voices of Service

Community Action is a calling and our leaders feel that mission everyday. Hear CAPK CEO Jeremy Tobias and Chief Program Officer Traco Matthews talk about why they feel called to service and Community Action.

Rental Assistance Still Available

Community Action Partnership of Kern's Rental Assistance Program is still taking applications for help. This is one of CAPK's newest programs and we're excited to be able to help people struggling in the current housing market keep their home. Also note some special opportunities for renters in Ridgecrest to learn more during walk-in hours at the Oasis Family Resource Center at 814 Norma Street.
