Community Action Partnership of Kern is proud to be partnering with amazing community services groups to bring COVID-19 vaccinations to some of Kern County's most vulnerable populations through the Vaccine Equity Project. We’ve been having a blast at resource fairs and community vaccination clinics where our partners, The Bakersfield American Indian Health Project, ShePower and South Kern Sol, have put together tons of fun activities and a chance for the public to learn about vaccination and get their first shots.
or their next boosters. Click on the links below to learn more and get vaccinated.

Learn About Vaccination

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion
Community Action Partnership of Kern serves diverse and dynamic communities and our clients come from many rich and varied cultures and backgrounds. CAPK is committed to having its leadership, boards and staff reflect that diversity. This week the agency launched a new Diversity, Equity and Inclusion effort to seek out the best ways to meet that commitment and capitalize on the uniqueness of our staff and agency to provide better service to the thousands of individuals and families facing poverty in Kern County.
CAPK Food Bank teamed up with California Food Banks, Kern's Building Healthy Communities team, United Against COVID and other partners during the first few weeks of August to bring boxes of produce to the communities of Greenfield, Arvin and Taft. We love being able to send people home with tasty, healthy food - especially during the current rise in food costs created by inflation. CAPK Food Bank is seeing increasing demand for food assistance and we're honored to be there for our communities to meet that demand.